Today, Mobility's Hometown welcomed Gen. (ret.) Raymond Johns, the National Commission on Military Safety commissioner, Maj. Gen. (ret) Gregory Feest, the National Commission on Military Aviation Safety executive director, Mr. Eric Minton, the National Commission on Military Aviation Safety editor, and Col. (ret) Clark Fredrick, National Commission on Military Aviation Safety program analyst. While here, visitors had the opportunity to meet with wing leadership, maintainers, students and OG personnel to review base operations related to aviation safety, and provide overview of current formal training unit operations!
